Indiana returns will make Figgers Grosvenor guess again.

The carpet baggers are bearing down on the poor Porto Ricans.

All our exchanges are talking about Canton's big Fourth of July celebra

Probably Mr. McKinley has had that war in the Philippines "over," but the tarnal thing won't stay "over,"

A number of Republican conventions have been held, but not one has endorsed the Porto Rican robbery.

Long ought to be turned loose against the prison demon, Marlatt. As a spanking machine he is a real success.

It was a mean trick of the weather man to bring on this cold snap just after most young men had their winter overcoats successfully pawned.

Pingree says there is no use hoping that the Republican party will do anything with the trusts. Pingree has been a Republican long enough to know.

Notice to exchanges: Tell your people that it will be useless for them to attempt a Fourth of July celebration. Canton has all the attractions engaged "Freedom's battle once begun, be queathed from bleeding sire to son though often lost is ever won." Cronje, fils, has taken the place of Cronje, pere.

Senator Hanna was put in an oven in New York a few days ago and roasted for rheumatism. The News-Demoerat modestly insists that it has done its part to prepare him for such heroic treatment.

Despite the fact that Syndicate Miller got ten years in the peniteniary for fleecing the people, a number of Canton to a "get rich quick" concern in Philadelphia.

The municipal elections in Indiana went Democratic for the most part. In a few isolated instances the Republieans won, but great Democratic gains were made everywhere in the state. It makes a fine prospectus.

William J. Bryan's stalwart patriotism is an inspiration. Even his enemies admit that he is stronger than in 1896. His popularity is not confined to sections of the country, as it was then. He is as popular in the east as in the west and south.

Taxation without representation is what our forefathers fought against. Their descendants are now doing to Porto Rico what they insisted should not be done to them by Great Britain. That is the situation in a nutshell. Do the American people approve this course? The elections in Indiana last Tuesday make answer.

The Methodists are making it lively for the president every time they have a session. At New York yesterday at the weekly meeting of the Methodist preachers of the city, a letter was read from a former United States consul at Manila, telling of the increase in drunkenness in the Philippines under American rule. Two prominent clergymen in the company severely scored the

The sultan of Turkey will pawn his harem and buy a cruiser from Uncle Sam evidently throwing in a lump sum to cover his indebtedness. That is what he said he would do some time ago and what he has probably intended to do all the time. But any sort of notoriety, however cheap, is good enough for the state department, as at present constituted.

Of course we will have to fight for the Monroe doctrine or abandon it. We needn't go to war about it, but if a little backbone is shown when an incipient trouble is noted, the matter will end there. Grover Cleveland gave the present administration a valuable pointer on the maintenance of the Monroe doctrine, and he didn't go to war about it either. A few more flabby anglomaniacs like Hay in the cabinet, will, however, make this nation appear like a veritable invertebrate.

Mr. J. H. Morris, of Youngstown, is being mentioned for congress on the Democratic ticket. At present Stark county has no candidate and it is likely that Mahoning will be permitted to name the man to run against Mr. Tayler. In that event Mr. Morris is said to be willing to accept, though he will not make a struggle for the nomination. Mahoning county Democrats think he is the proper man to name. The Vindicator says he will give Mr. r the fight of his life.

General Greely, chief of the signal bureau, says the American army is represented in the ranks by the manhood and integrity of the country and that the officers represent a political machine. That is plain talk from an officer who ought to know. It accounts for a great many sorry occurrences.

Governor Pingree of Michigan has denounced the Republican party and come out in a straightforward manner for the Democratic national ticket and the Democratic platform to be constructed at Kansas City. He does not wait till that platform is constructed, but is assured in advance that it will be the only platform on which the people with safety can stand. He says the hope of the people is in the Democratic party, and he is right.

By a strict party vote the Republican majority in the United States senate took decisive action in favor of the trusts a day or two since when a resolution to purchase projectiles from a concern not in a combination was voted down. Here was an opportunity to give the trusts what the Ohio platform says they ought to have, but Senator Hanna, who constructed the platform, voted for the combination. There is absolutely no hope for the people save through Democratic success. The brusts will own the country before Mr. McKinley's second term is half over, if he is re-elected.

Secretary Long gave Captain Chadwick about as severe a spanking as any officer ever got. In his letter to Chadwick he told that fresh fellow that he had been reprimanded once before within a year and intimated that he would better not offend again. How Secretary Long happened to get license to take a step that might be construed as favorable to Rear Admiral Schley is not known, but he did it effectively and well. Chadwick wasn't at the battle of Santiago any more than Sampson was and his utterances regarding it are worthy only of the contempt in which the department seems to hold them.

SPECIACLE STAGGERS HUMANITY.

Great Britain, for the satisfaction of crushing the life out of a republic, is spending millions of money in war material, while its wards in India are dying of starvation. America is called upon to help these people while England is busy with a republic-throttling enterchumps are said to be sending in coin prise. When the famine in India set in the people began to sell everything they had that they might get a little grain for food. They took the doors from their houses and sold them; sold the furniture and farming utensils and then when they had nothing else to sell, they sold their children. The boys don't sell, and the traffic is largely in girls. Girls in one town were sold for thirty cents apiece. They were bought up by Mohammedans for evil purposes. But they won't buy the boys, so when the parents can no longer support their children they abandon them, and henceforth they must get on as best they can. These castoffs conmerchant's shops, and the only way the throw out handfuls of grain, scattering it wide. The children pick and pick all day, and at night perhaps are rewarded by having collected a single handful. That is the spectacle that mighty England presents to the world while its millions are being spent to give the Boer farmers "religious liberty" from the mouth of cannon. It is that sort of thing that the administration at Washington endorses by its silence.

India is part of the British empire. The British empire is spending $500,000, 000 to subjugate a little group of farmers just outside of its dominions while its own subjects are dying by millions for lack of the assistance which it is amply able to furnish.

The Christian Herald has sent out an appeal to Americans to help these starying people. It says that two cents a day will support one life. One dollar will save a life for two months. Two dollars will save a life until the harvest. Five dollars will save a man, wife and child until the next crop is gathered. Ten dollars will save a whole family from death.

Forbid that anything should be said to check the flow of assistance to these wards of Great Britain, but it is proper to insist that the responsibility be placed where it belongs. The Christian Heraid's table should read-like this:

Two rifle catridges a day will support one life.

One six-pounder shell will save a life for two months.

One twelve-pounder shell will save life till the harvest.

One pair of cavalry boots will save a man, wife and child until the next crop is gathered.

One minute's discharge of a Maxim gun will save a whole family from

The cost of the war for one second will save ten lives for four months.

Two rifles will save them and afford them the comforts of blankets during the rainy and cold season.

The cost of firing one shot from a six inch gun would save five families. One scrub baggage train horse would

Many a schoolgirl is said to be lazy and when she doesn't desn't the least bit of it. She can't study, easily falls asleep, is nervous and tired all the time. And what can you expect? conquer the Boers would save the en tire fifty millions of England's starving subjects in India.

The rescue of these lives is simply t matter of money. There is food enough in India. All that is necessary is the means of buying it. "The cable operates quickly," says the Christian Herald, "and your contributions today may save scores, hundreds, yes thousands of lives tomorrow." The cable would operate just as quickly at the command of the British government as at that of benevolent Americans. If it is true that every one of us who contributes two dollars saves the life of some wretched Hindoo who would die but for that succor, then every human being in India who perishes for lack of such assistance is murdered by the government that is abundantly able to supply it, but prefers to devote the price of ten Hindoo lives per second to the gregate about the doors of the grain extinction of republicanism in South Africa. That is what staggers human-

GROSVENOR AND HIS FIGURES.

Grosvenor, known as "Old Figgers, has undertaken to elect Mr. McKinley to another term without undergoing the process of a campaign. But his figures indicate that a campaign will not only be necessary but will be fraught with great danger to the Republican leader. It is conceded in the forecast that "Figgers" has sent out that Maryland and Kentucky are no longer in the McKinley column. McKinley carried both of these states in 1896. Why cannot he carry them again? Is he weaker in 1900 than he was in 1896? Why Grosvenor should give his reasons with his figures. All of the states that Bryan carried in 1896 are again conceded to him. Why? Is he weaker than he was in 1896? If he is, why concede him all the states he carried then? And if it is the intention to concede him all the states he carried in 1896 where is all this cry about him being beaten worse than ever, especially when even Grosvenor gives him two states more. The pivotal number of electoral votes, according to Grosvenor's figures will be the electoral vote of New York. That is, if Mr. Bryan carries New York and carries only what Grosvenor concedes him elsewhere, he will be elected. But there are other matters to consider. Why is California to be included in the McKinley list? The indications from there are that Mr. Bryan will surely carry that state. And what of Indiana? Ex-President Harrison, Ex-Attorney General Miller, General Lew Wallace and other prominent leaders in the state are opposed to the Porto openly said so. They have declared that the administration is not even an American administration. Will that not have some effect on Indiana? And what of M chigan? Governor Pingree, the Republican executive of that state, says that he will hereafter support the Dem-
